GOTHAM'S TRAFFIC BLOCKED. Most Serious Tie-up of Transportation in New York's History Caused by Ice on the Elevated Railroad. BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES. NEW YORK, Dec. 12--[Exclusive Dispatch.] What proved the most serious tie-up in the history of transportation in this city was caused this morning by the blocking of elevated-train service owing to the coating of ice on the third rail. The downtown business part of the day was crippled because it was impossible for persons to get to their offices or places of employment on time. The ice blockade affected Brooklyn, too, and all trolley cars and elevated trains that arrived at the bridge were far behind schedule time.

With the elevated railroad tied up, the surface cars could make but a poor shift at handling traffic. Thousands of persons who waited, shivering, on the elevated station platforms, and then decided to go down stairs again and stand on the corner until a street car should arrive, were disappointed. Passengers were already holding on at the front and rear platforms of the cars. The Manhattan Railway Company's officers say the tie-up will not recur, as a device has been perfected to keep the third rail clear of ice. The device consists of a steel brush and oil-spray to be attached to the motor. On account of the sleety streets and sidewalks, there were many falls and casualties.

Victim of Live Wire. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12--While assisting a milkman to raise a fallen horse to its feet at an early hour this morning, Herman Kearns was accidentally killed by placing his hand on the steel tie of the wagon, which had come into contact with a broken telephone wire. Over four thousand volts passed through his body.

Ridpath Hotel Burned. SPOKANE (Wash.) Dec. 12--The Ridpath Hotel, valued at $80,000, was gutted by fire early this morning.

Highlanders Rob Countryman. STOCKTON, Dec. 11--Five highlanders secured $100 from Gun Lee at the point of a pistol 2 o'clock this morning, at Boulton Station.

Hale's 101-103 North Spring Street Only Ten Shopping Days Until Christmas.

Interesting News of Things

JUST RIGHT FOR CHRISTMAS

Come with us a minute for a holiday peep at the busy Hale store. Of course we can't mention a thousandth part of the beautiful goods that the whole city is talking about, but we will mention a few that are most in favor. Every moment you delay lessens your chance of being among the fortunate buyers.

Why Not Give UNBRELLAS? You can easily see why the exclusive furnishing store Hale's must ask a big price for Christmas goods, umbrellas and such things. But Hale's holiday business the most important event in the year with them? But Hale's umbrellas are such an insignificant part of the stock that we can well afford to sell them at prices that seem almost too low to be true. We have all the latest styles in handles, best steel frames, best coverings, and we will fairly surprise you with the smallness of the figures we ask.

Why Not Give EBONY? We show the same beautiful novelties that you would find in the high-class jewelry stores of New York and Boston, at prices so much lower than any jewelry store could afford to ask. Ebony military brushes, ebony toilet novelties with sterling silver trimmings, and all at such absurdly little prices. It just makes your purse happy.

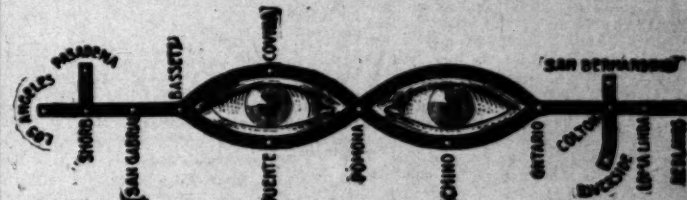

Why Not Give GLOVES? Hale gloves mean the best gloves. Everyone knows it, so of course in making a gift your friend is bound to feel better satisfied, and you are bound to feel more contented yourself if it is known that the gloves came from Hale's. For instance, the Magdoli Italian gloves, known over all the world for their superiority, are sold exclusively by this store in Los Angeles. Just so with all the other makes in gloves.

Why Not Give LEATHER? We could mention a list of pretty things--handbags, purses, jewelry, jewelry bags, belts, etc. The point is right here, Hale's is showing a variety of things that you find at the ordinary stores, and yet Hale's prices are not any higher, and mostly lower, so of course every woman feels that it is her duty to buy leather goods at Hale's.

Why Not Give HANDKERCHIEFS? Our reputation as the handkerchief store is so well established that even to say so would be almost unnecessary. If you only had the time to look through the hundreds and hundreds of boxes filled with the most beautiful handkerchiefs from foreign and American makers, you would be almost bewildered with the revelations you would find. Prior down to a few pennies, and of course every handkerchief is just as big value as you could find at any store in the land. Men's, women's, children's.

Why Not Give THESE? Sewing baskets, fancy wider baskets, toilet sets, manicure sets, jewelry receptacles, fancy glove boxes, collar and cuff boxes, smoking sets, photo-graph albums, stationery, fancy purses, bottles, toilet articles, etc. etc. etc. long list we could mention, but after all the main point is to come early and you will see a thousand things to catch your eye. Just think, if you are shopping days until Christmas, and each one gets a better, better, better! It looks as though every penny's worth of Christmas goods would be gone, for we never before had such a beautiful array, nor were Hale goods ever before so much better than you would find elsewhere.

During the last five years the aching, if not constant, was always in evidence if I overexerted myself, contracted a cold or did any thing which brought a strain on the muscles of the back. I was continually using medicine or rubbing on liniments and wearing plasters, but I never received any lasting benefit. I never had a preparation which brought about such successful results as Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Doan's Drug Store. # Extensive Practice

A MARK OF ABILITY. No amount of newspaper space can build and maintain professional success. Honorable methods and exceptional ability are the only factors in the success of a physician. I have been established fifteen years as a specialist in men's diseases. My practice has steadily grown. It is now the largest of its kind in the entire West, and I treat patients from every State in the Union. Under my original and scientific methods of treatment what were once regarded as incurable cases yield completely. This is why my practice has grown and continues to grow.

Specific Blood Poison. I permanently cure this most hideous of all blood diseases. I employ harmless, blood-cleansing remedies that positively drive the very last taint of virus from the system, and every symptom vanishes to appear no more.

DR. O. C. JOSLEN, Cor. Third and Main Sts. "Weakness" I am confident that I have cured more cases of so-called "weakness" than any other physician. There may be doctors in the large eastern cities who have treated more cases than I, but they have not cured them. I have cured them. I have cured them. I have cured them.

I consider Wine of Cardui the finest remedy woman can use who is suffering with any of the ills peculiar to women. I have been in poor health for over nine years. At first I did not pay much attention to it, but soon I began to feel very much worse. I lost my appetite and suffered with indigestion, nervousness and at my menstrual periods I was frequently so prostrated that it left me weak and prostrated. The least excitement or extra work would cause palpitation of the heart and I suffered frequently with aching head.

The system is tainted with the virus of blood-poisoning in the form of Scrofula, Syphilis, Pityriasis, or Swollen joints, Eruptions or Copper-colored spots on the trunk, Falling out of the hair, or other signs of blood-poisoning. Uncle Sam is requested to pay the prothonotary sum of $47.80 for the right to occupy the premises at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, which form part of the site required for the new government building. This plot is not for the building and the ground upon which it stands, but simply for the leasehold that rests in the name of the tenant and for certain damages which they claim will result from their removal to the new site. A separate claim for $120,000 for the lot and improvements is made by the owners of the property. As there are three more lots of the same size, all improved with substantial buildings, and at least five more tenants who demand payment for their leasehold, the government is confronted with a financial problem which hardly can be cleared by the appropriation of $250,000 that has been set aside for the acquisition of the Federal building site.

WILLIAM H. MAURICE LAID TO REST IN ROSDALE.
He was an Intimate Friend of Gen. Grant and Did Great Service for His City and Country in Most Trying Times.
Yesterday afternoon there was laid away in Rosedale Cemetery the earthly remains of a remarkable man, William H. Maurice. The interment was private, only the immediate family and a very few friends being present. The service, conducted by Rev. Dr. Jones, pastor of the Unitarian Church, was simple. An impressive feature of the funeral was the appearance of two grandsons of the deceased among the pallbearers. W. H. Maurice came to Los Angeles sixteen years ago and has been a notable figure in business circles ever since. He leaves behind him a reputation for strict integrity, for genuine sincerity, and for loyal friendship, such as few men are permitted to achieve, even in a long life and in the freshness of young manhood. Mr. Maurice was born in Union Springs, N. Y., April 22, 1824. At the age of 22 he left his home for St. Louis, a journey which took many days of slow travel in 1846. Before the war he had formed an attachment for a young lady, Sarah Andrews of Tazewell, Mass., and two years later (1848) he married her. He met her at Louisville, Ky., and in the old Gauley House there he and his bride celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, with their children and grandchildren around them.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Friday Morning Club.
B. R. Baumgardt gave the Friday Morning Club an interesting session yesterday in a lecture entitled "The Destruction of St. Pierre," which was a splendid example of American manhood, irreplicable in business and patriotic in the performance of his civic duties. For his great services to the Union, Gen. Grant became his steadfast friend, and had he so desired, he might have won any political preferment he might have wished. But his services were for his country, not for himself, and when they were no longer necessary to his country, his natural tastes brought him back again to the quieter walks of private life.

MRS. DRIGGS TO APPEAR.

She Will Tell the Story of Her Life to the Court.
Examination Today of the Mother of the Fair Claimant.
First Round in the Battle for the Roll of Greenbacks Left by "Charles Hill."
This morning Mrs. Gertrude Driggs, who claims that on January 14, 1888, she wrote and saw "Charles Hill" sign his last testament, which bequeathed to her infant daughter, Grace Gertrude, all of his fortune, will be put on the witness stand in Judge Shaw's court to tell the story to the attorneys for Salem Charles, the other claimant to the $100,000. Associated with J. W. McKinley, Esq., heretofore representing Salem Charles, will be the firm of Works, Lee & Works. The appearance of Mrs. Driggs on the witness stand to answer the question of the attorneys for the adverse claimant, will be in accordance with the Civil Code of Procedure, which provides for the perpetuation of testimony. In case Mrs. Driggs dies or leaves the State before the case comes into court, her deposition will be available. It should be an interesting moment when Mrs. Driggs takes the stand. She is a woman of prepossessing appearance, and her story, if true, would be a most interesting one. Many a maid would envy Mrs. Driggs her complexion, by the way. Interesting story to tell. It will probably be of her own past, a story which, she said yesterday, she is not ashamed to tell. And then she will bring in Charles Hill, whom she claims was her husband's partner in the counterfeiting business. The attorneys, to whom Mrs. Driggs will relate past events, are well primed. They have the reports made by Pinkerton detectives through the country. These make Mrs. Driggs out a woman with a past dark with crime. Her credibility, it is said, will be tested, and on her bearing, to a great extent, depends the cause of Grace Driggs. At all events, it will be the beginning of the great legal fight for the bunch of greenbacks. That Salem Charles No. 2 of Boston means to land the fortune is shown by the addition of Works, Lee & Works to his counsel, which was announced yesterday. Leon F. Moss, attorney for the Public Administrator, is confident that the claim of Salem Charles is the bona fide case. Mr. Moss is in a position to judge, as he has traced all claims with a thoroughness that has left little undone. Beginning with the appearance of the original Salem Charles in Keokuk, Iowa, in 1849, up to the time of his death last May, his business undertakings and his travels are a matter of record. His history is given as that of the successful business man and the indefatigable traveler. In 1848, according to the information gleaned, Salem Charles invested $10,000 in Keokuk property. In 1852 he sold it for $25,000. Then he began trading with the United States, and shipped loads of supplies from the North. In this way he amassed a fortune. From 1853 to 1858 he traveled extensively with his niece, Mary Charles, and visited most of the important cities of the East. During the twenty years preceding his death in this city, he registered at leading hotels in almost every large city in the United States. In Texas, Arizona and California he was known as "Charles Hill." In other States he gave the name of Salem Charles. Before coming to Los Angeles, he stayed at the Mitchell Hotel, Pasadena, and was a familiar figure on the streets there and was also well known by sight during his many months' residence here.

Archbishop Riordan's First "Flashlight."

Archbishop Riordan, photographed yesterday in Los Angeles for "The Times."
"Yes, certainly, go ahead. I'll stand right here," were the genial words of Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, just returning from Rome, as he greeted a Times photographer in the reception-room of the parochial residence on Second street in this city yesterday afternoon, when requested to pose for a flashlight photograph. "Wonderful, wonderful," exclaimed the venerable Romanist when the flash went off and let the image of his tall form into the eye of the camera; and he patiently posed for another exposure. Archbishop Riordan was in attendance upon the trial by arbitration of the famous Pious Fund, in which the government of Mexico and the Catholic church were the principals, which was tried in The Hague. The archbishop

ELKS WILL GO.

A special train will leave the Arcade depot this evening at 8:30 o'clock bearing about 100 Elks of Los Angeles No. 29, and Pasadena No. 67, chaplains, and the Pomona people and help them wind up the street fair and carnival. The train will go, rain or no rain, also the Elks' commissary and a brass band.

UNABLE TO PAY DIVIDEND.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—A meeting of the directors of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company today decided to cancel the dividend of 15 per cent. declared sometime ago, and payable December 15. It was acknowledged that the company did not have sufficient funds on hand to pay the dividend. Negotiations with the Commercial Trust Company for a loan of $3,000,000 are still in progress, the security offered being the installments due on the stock which are in arrears.

MRS. GERTRUDE DRIGGS, MOTHER OF THE CLAIMANT.

The witness stand to answer the question of the attorneys for the adverse claimant, will be in accordance with the Civil Code of Procedure, which provides for the perpetuation of testimony. In case Mrs. Driggs dies or leaves the State before the case comes into court, her deposition will be available. It should be an interesting moment when Mrs. Driggs takes the stand. ## MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Symphony Concert.
The Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra gave their second concert of this season at the Los Angeles Theater yesterday afternoon. Bernhard Molzenauer, violinist, was the soloist. The programme contained some unusually interesting numbers, for instance, the Beethoven "Egmont" overture and the "Lenore" symphony of Raff. The "Kreutzer" sonata for violin and piano and power of incidental music in relation to noble drama. The Dvorak "Slavonic Rhapsody" was a matter of fire and appreciation, and also was a number of interest. Bernhard Molzenauer played the second Concerto (Wienawski) and was warmly received. He contributed an encore without accompaniment. The next solos will be Miss Alice Coleman, pianist.

Then, too, look at this speech, on the subject of the British government.

"Burghers, I asked, 'do you understand what this self-government, in my opinion, means? You say to me, 'first, that I can hang you up; then you may kick your legs about as much as you please. That is what they call self-

That is the character of the wisdom than a defining statement; but it has a quality all its own, moreover, through all the humor is discernible the intense earnestness of the man. Patriotism was not, indeed, in veneration, but in the heart of the man, and he called of God to a specific work; and he acted as one who truly believed.

In his way, he was terribly strong.

The book should be widely read.
